

KOKO the intelligent gorilla

eslvideo.com Quiz by: elodiesale

1) Where is Koko the gorilla from ?

- northern Texas, just a few miles south of Austin
- the hills of northern California, a few miles south of San Francisco
- a cave in the north of the US

3) What has Penny Paterson tried over forty years ?

- to discover if humans and gorillas could ever communicate
- to discover the common point between humans and gorillas
- to discover if gorillas could be one ancestor to humans

5) What began as a PhD ___ turned into a lifelong relationship.

- to teach sign language to Koko
- to speak all languages with Koko
- to teach a language sign to Koko

7) What is the particularity of Koko as a gorilla ?

- he is a good predator
- he is intelligent
- he is very tall

9) When did the project begin ?

- one and a half century ago
- nearly half a century ago
- half of a half century ago

2) It is home to ___ including a western lowland gorilla named Koko, whose life challenges what it is that makes humans unique.

- a host of celebrities
- different celebrities
- some weird celebrities

4) Everyone when they're a child has that 'Doctor Dolittle moment' where they think, ___ and here was a chance.

- you know if only we could talk to animals
- you know if only animals could talk
- you know if only we could be animals

6) In what way is Penny in love with Koko ?

- like sister and brother
- like mother and daughter
- like father and daughter

8) But throughout their time together, Penny ___ Koko.

- has had to fight to
- has have to fight to keep
- has had to fight to keep

10) With over ___ hours of footage collected over forty four years, does project Koko finally prove that animals can communicate their thoughts and feelings with humans?

- 2,000,000
- 2,000
- 200

11) Or are there some things that _____ from our closest relatives?

- would always separate us
- will always isolate us
- will always separate us

12) What is this type of video ?

- a documentary
- a cartoon
- an interview

13) How many different voices are there in the document?

- 5
- 6
- 7

Transcript

Hidden in the hills of Northern California, a few miles South of San Francisco lies Woodside, one of the wealthiest towns in the United States.

It is home to a host of celebrities including a western lowland gorilla named Koko, whose life challenges what it is that makes humans unique.

Over forty years ago, Penny Patterson set out to discover if humans and gorillas could ever communicate.

- everyone when they're a child has that doctor Doolittle moment where they think, you know if only we could talk to animals and here was a chance.

What began as a PhD to teach sign language to Koko turned into a lifelong relationship.

- It seemed like Penny was in love with Koko and the way in which a mother might be in love with her daughter.

News about Koko made headlines across the world.

- Koko who is a particularly intelligent gorilla... Koko is the subject of the longest ongoing ape language ...

But throughout their time together, Penny has had to fight to keep Koko.

- the reality that it really would end just didn't enter our mind.

Now nearly half a century since the project began, the line between humans and apes is being redrawn.

A court in Argentina has ruled that now orang outans can be granted some of the legal rights enjoyed by humans.

With over 2,000 hours of footage collected over forty four years, does project Koko finally prove that animals can communicate their thoughts and feelings with humans?

Or are there some things that will always separate us from our closest relatives?