
What Can You Do? (I don't have a job.)

eslvideo.com Quiz by: rmd

1. What does Anna say to Pete?

○ a.) "Sorry, what did you say?"

○ b.) "Sorry, I can't hear you."

○ c.) "Please repeat that."

2. Why is Pete sad?

○ a.) Pete is sad because he does not have a skill.

○ b.) He is sad because he lost all of his money.

○ c.) Pete is sad because he does not have any friends.

3. What does Anna say everyone has?

○ a.) a car

○ b.) a beard

○ c.) a skill

4. What mistake does Pete make when Anna asks if he can write code?

○ a.) He thinks she said "cold."

○ b.) He asks about her phone.

○ c.) He tells her about his blog.

5. What does Pete ask to show he does not understand?

○ a.) Do you mean drive a race car?

○ b.) It's really hard to be a race car driver.

○ c.) I can't hear you.

6. Why can't Pete be a taxi driver?

○ a.) He falls asleep when he drives.

○ b.) He does not have a driver's license.

○ c.) He is not a good driver.

7. How many followers does Pete have?

○ a.) Pete has 59,538 followers.

○ b.) Pete has 55,538 followers.

○ c.) He has 69,538 followers.

8. What does Pete do that surprises Anna?

○ a.) He can code.

○ b.) He has a big beard.

○ c.) He writes a blog.

9. What does Pete decide to become by the end of the conversation?

○ a.) a chef

○ b.) a driver

○ c.) a writer

Gap-fill

Complete these sentences with the words in the box.

Wordbank

make money different code you mean I mean can be a cannot that's not good can write can don't have can write well can't has don't know I can't hear jobs what's wrong blog 59538

1.) Anna: Hi, there! Washington, D. C. is a great place to work. Many people here work in government and politics. But there are many other ____. You can work at a hospital; a university. You can work in a coffee shop. Wait a minute. I think I see a friend of mine. Pete? Is that you?

2.) Anna: You look _____. Your beard ... is really big.

3.) So, _____ _____? You look sad.

4.) Anna: Sorry, _ _____ ____ you.

5.) Pete: I _____ ____ a skill.

6.) Anna: Everyone ___ a skill. You need to find yours.

7.) Pete: I _____ ____, Anna.

8.) Anna: Yes, I ___. Let me help.

9.) Anna: No, not "cold. " Code; you know, for making phone apps, or websites. You can make tons of money writing ____.

10.) Pete: Tons of money? But I _____ code.

11.) Pete: Do ___ ____ drive a race car? It's really hard to be a race car driver.

12.) Anna: No, _ ____ drive a taxi or drive a bus.

13.) Anna: Oh, _____ ___ ____. Next question. Can you teach? You can be a teacher in a school.

14.) Pete: No, I _____ teach.

15.) Anna: Can you cook? You ___ __ _ chef in a restaurant.

16.) Pete: No, I can't code! I can't teach! I can't cook! Anna, I can't do anything. This is sad. I'm gonna write about my feelings in my ____.

17.) Pete: I don't know ... _____.

18.) Anna: Pete, that's a lot of followers! You can ____ _____ writing!

19.) Pete: Writing is easy. Everyone ___ _____.

20.) Anna: Not everyone ___ _____ ____. You can be a writer!

Transcript

Anna: Hi, there! Washington, D.C. is a great place to work. Many people here work in government and politics. But there are many other jobs. You can work at a hospital, a university, or a coffee shop. Wait a minute, I think I see a friend of mine. Pete? Is that you?
Pete: Hi, Anna.
Anna: You look different. Your beard is really big.
Pete: You don't like it, do you?
Anna: No, no. You just look different. So, what's wrong? You look sad.
Pete: I don't have a job.
Anna: Sorry, I can't hear you.
Pete: I do not have a job!
Anna: Oh. I'm sorry to hear that, Pete.
Pete: I don't have a skill.
Anna: Everyone has a skill. You need to find yours.
Pete: I don't know, Anna.
Anna: Pete, I am good at asking questions. Let me ask you some.
Pete: Really, Anna? Can you help me?
Anna: Yes, I can. Let me help.
Pete: Sure, Anna. Maybe you can help.
Anna: Can you write code?
Pete: Sure, c-o-l-d. How is this going to help?
Anna: No, not "cold." Code. You know, for making phone apps or websites. You can make tons of money writing code.
Pete: Tons of money? But I can't code.
Anna: Next question. Can you drive?
Pete: Do you mean drive a race car? It's really hard to be a race car driver. First, you need a race car…
Anna: No, I mean drive a taxi or drive a bus.
Pete: No, I always fall asleep when I drive.
Anna: Oh, that's not good. Next question. Can you teach? You can be a teacher in a school.
Pete: No, I cannot teach.
Anna: Can you cook? You can be a chef in a restaurant.
Pete: No, I can't code! I can't teach! I can't cook! Anna, I can't do anything. This is sad. I'm gonna write about my feelings in my blog.

Anna: You write a blog?

Pete: Yeah, I write a blog.

Anna: How many followers do you have?

Pete: I don't know… 59,538.

Anna: Pete, that's a lot of followers! You can make money writing!

Pete: Writing is easy. Everyone can write.

Anna: Not everyone can write well. You can be a writer!

Pete: I can be a writer. I can be a writer! I can be a writer! Thanks, Anna.

Marsha: Hi, Pete. Hi, Anna.

Pete: Hi, Marsha. Excuse me, I have to go.

Marsha: Where are you going?

Pete: I'm going to be a writer!

Marsha: Good luck, Pete!

Marsha: He does know that it's not easy to be a writer, doesn't he?

Anna: There are many different jobs you can have in Washington, D.C. Pete wants to be a writer. I wish him luck. Lots of luck. Until next time!