Meet Steph. Hi, my name is Steph and I'm a makeup artist. Steph was supposed to start makeup school on Monday, but on Sunday she got in a car accident that left her paralyzed, both legs and hands. And when she left the hospital for the first time on Christmas, she got into another car accident. Then she got diagnosed with cancer, PTSD, and depression. Then she lost her brother. Did you catch all that? I hope you did catch it, because 4 years later, on Monday, Steph went back to makeup school. Now she's a makeup artist who can drive a car by herself, put on clothes by herself, and even surf. But it's never easy. If she drops a makeup brush, getting it back is close to impossible. To get in a car, it takes her 5 minutes. And surfing using no hands or legs is hard. People call her an inspiration and a role model, but that was never her goal. All I'm trying to be is me. That's 1 minute. We'll see you tomorrow. Before you go, one last thing. That video you just saw, I made using this camera and this microphone. But, for the first time ever, I'm ditching my camera and I'm picking up my podcasting equipment, because yes, I'm starting a podcast. It's called Nas Talks. It's free and it's only on Spotify. And if you liked that video, I think you're going to love the podcast, because I just wanted to make a podcast about things that I would listen to, about topics that I want to listen to. For example, so that's the beauty of our relationship, I think, just to establish this, right? We were not This was never meant to happen. For you to come to my village was a big, big deal. That's a huge deal, okay? Fellow non-Arabs and Jews that are listening, for a Arab to invite a Jew to an Arab village period is weird and then to do it during Ramadan is weird and then another layer a Jew on the internet Yeah. that I've never met before it's a recipe for disaster in Israel. Yes, Nas Talks is 100% honest and raw and deep and by the way it's 100% free. So keep your money and give me your ears because if you like this video, I think you're going to love this podcast. See you on Spotify.
